After reviewing his own new data, NASA climate scientist Jay Zwally said: "At this rate, the Arctic Ocean could be nearly ice-free at the end of Summer by 2012, much faster than previous predictions."

"As we predicted last year, 2007 was warmer than 2006, continuing the strong warming trend of the past 30 years that has been confidently attributed to the effect of increasing human-made greenhouse gases," said James Hansen, director of NASA GISS.

We simply must do everything we can in our power to slow down global warming before it is too late. The science is clear. The global warming debate is over.
